

Network Structure of Japanese Firms

Tomohiko KONNO

Graduate School of Economics, University of Tokyo, Bunkyo-ku, Hongo 7-3-1 Tokyo, JAPAN
tomo.konno@gmail.com

We studied Japanese firms' transaction network. For this purpose, we used the data consisting of 800,000 firms. We found several interesting discoveries. This presentation is for reporting empirical findings. For example,

- Scale free degree distribution
- Hierarchical structure
- Renormalized relation between gross sales and degree
- Other interesting properties of firms' transaction relation.

We will report these topics.

Keywords

Complex Network, Firms' transaction relation, Data analysis